Dear Parent/Carer

We wish to make you aware that we have been informed of another potential hoax communication relating to a bomb threat, similar to that reported on 19 October, which has been sent to a number of schools across Northern Ireland.

We would like to reassure parents and carers that Nendrum College is not one of the schools that has received this communication and the school remains open as normal.

We fully appreciate that reports of this nature can understandably cause concern for pupils, parents and the wider school community. As an additional precaution and to provide further reassurance, our Building Management Team is carrying out checks around the school building and grounds.

We will continue to remain vigilant and monitor the situation carefully. Should any further relevant information or guidance become available, we will keep parents and carers updated.

Thank you for your continued support.

Kind regards

A Walker
Principal
